Tarot Card of the Month

Judgement - September is a month of assessment, of looking back to what's worked, what hasn't and how far you've come. Judgement is the last card before we start the cycle all over again, it's a chance to accept things as they've happened and know that you have choice in how you move forward. Very fitting for the fact that we'll have 7 planets either retrograde or in their retroshade this month, it's all about reflection so that the next steps truly make sense for you and your goals and dreams. Judgement asks us to take an objective look with compassion for what's occurred, be careful not fall into judgey mindsets and instead lean into the full breadth of the lessons and blessings of all of your experiences.

Aries Full Moon

This Full Moon is at 6 degrees Aries at 4:57AM on Friday, September 29th. This is the first lunation for the Libra/Aries axis since the ecliptic nodes have moved into the signs. Pay attention to the themes of balance and compromise versus assertion and self direction, look to where Libra and Aries fall in your chart to know what area of life is a focus. Full Moons are a time of releasing, either what no longer fits in our lives or something into the world we want to show to others. Venus will be square Uranus and sextile to Mars on this day. Venus is the planet in charge of Libra and Mars of Aries so it feels more relevant for this full moon. Venus square to Uranus brings unexpected shifts and surprises to how we're indulging and relating, the sextile to Mars adds a level of passion and excitement and desire to take action. All of this along with heightened feels of a full moon, be mindful of impulses and taking action before thinking things through regardless of what you're releasing.
